The Grading Descriptors for the Teachers' Standards on the following pages draw upon the national UCET/NASBTT guidance for all ITE provision. These descriptors are to be applied at all stages of the programme. They are developmental as well as summative.

Mentors - This guidance should be used throughout the placement to set formative targets and at the end of the placement to grade the trainee’s performance and set future targets.

Trainees - This guidance should be used throughout your programme for self-assessment and target setting.

Guidance for using the descriptors:

In accordance with the requirements of the Teachers’ Standards, providers of initial teacher training are required to assess trainee teachers against the standards in a way that is consistent with what could reasonably be expected of a trainee teacher prior to the award of QTS. Therefore a judgement is relative to this stage in a teacher’s professional development and a grade of ‘achieved standards at a high level’ relative to a trainee teacher is not comparable with the equivalent for an experienced teacher.

Each judgement is an overall judgement. In a best fit model, the statements describe features of practice that are characteristic of a trainee performing at that level. They also need to be interpreted within the setting and context in which the trainee has worked.

A trainee graded as achieving the standards at a Good or High level should be working within the level of mentor support as expected by the programme. A student achieving the standards at a minimum level at all points, except final assessment, will be working with a higher level of support.

Trainees to be awarded QTS teach at least satisfactory lessons across a range of different contexts (for example, different ages, backgrounds, group sizes, and abilities) by the end of their training.

Trainees graded as ‘achieving the standards at a good level’ teach mostly good lessons across a range of different contexts (for example, different ages, backgrounds, group sizes, and abilities) by the end of their training.

Trainees graded as ‘achieving the standards at a high level’ teach consistently good lessons that often demonstrate outstanding features across a range of different contexts (for example, different ages, backgrounds, group sizes, and abilities) by the end of their training.
Part One - Teaching

Teachers’ Standards

1. Set high expectations which inspire, motivate and challenge pupils

*establish a safe and stimulating environment for pupils, rooted in mutual respect *set goals that stretch and challenge pupils of all backgrounds, abilities and disposition

*demonstrate consistently the positive attitudes, values and behaviour which are expected of pupils

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a high level may demonstrate these characteristics:

They constantly encourage pupils to participate and contribute in an atmosphere highly conducive to learning. They consistently set high expectations of pupils in different training contexts.

There are high levels of mutual respect between the trainee and pupils. They are very effective in promoting learners’ resilience, confidence and independence when tackling challenging activities. They generate high levels of enthusiasm, participation and commitment to learning.

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a good level may demonstrate these characteristics:

They are reliable in encouraging pupils to participate and contribute in an atmosphere conducive to learning.

They consistently set high expectations of pupils in their different training contexts.

All trainees to be awarded QTS will have demonstrated as a minimum that:

They are able to encourage pupils to participate and contribute in an atmosphere conducive to learning.

In the course of differing school experiences they have shown that they have set appropriately high expectations, believing that all pupils have the potential to make progress.

They are able to develop a rapport with a range of individuals and groups. As a consequence of this pupils are engaged in their learning.

They consistently demonstrate professional behaviour, respect for pupils, colleagues, parents and carers and support the ethos of the school.

They demonstrate enthusiasm for working with children and young people and for teaching and learning.

2. Promote good progress and outcomes by pupils

- be accountable for pupils’ attainment, progress and outcomes
- plan teaching to build on pupils’ capabilities and prior knowledge
- guide pupils to reflect on the progress they have made and their emerging needs
- demonstrate knowledge and understanding of how pupils learn and how this impacts on teaching
- encourage pupils to take a responsible and conscientious attitude to their own work and study

Expectation – for example by the end of the programme a trainee should be able to:

- Demonstrate, in planning and teaching, knowledge of individuals’ attainment
- Liaise with host dept and SENCO for information about individual needs and how they are usually met in the dept’s teaching and the school as a whole
- Acquire some knowledge and understanding of the role of the form tutor / pastoral system in promoting good progress and outcomes by pupils
- Provide feedback to pupils and opportunities for them to reflect on their attainment and how to make progress.
- Identify and follow up issues of under-attainment by pupils eg discuss with class teacher, LSA, form tutor, with pupil after the lesson (as appropriate in the context of the placement school’s policy and practice

Examples of Evidence

- Lesson plans, student teacher evaluations of lessons, observations by class teacher/mentor/ university tutor, records of pupil progress.
- Monitoring and assessment records of pupil progress
- Observations by trainee of experienced teachers
- Comments from co-form tutor
- Written feedback given to pupils
- Reports from SENCO/LSA

<td>They plan lessons that often use well-chosen imaginative and creative strategies and that match individuals’ needs and interests. They are highly reflective in critically evaluating their practice. They can accurately judge the impact of their practice on individual and groups of learners and can use their evaluation to inform future planning, teaching and learning. They show initiative in contributing to curriculum planning and developing and producing effective learning resources in their placements.</td>
<td>They show a willingness to try out a range of approaches to teaching and learning. They plan lessons that take account of the needs of groups of learners and individuals, through the setting of differentiated learning outcomes, carefully matching teaching and learning activities and resources to support learners in achieving these intended learning outcomes. They know how to learn from both successful and less effective lessons through their systematic evaluation of the effectiveness of their practice, including its impact on learners. They make a positive contribution to the development of curriculum and resources in their placement settings.</td>
<td>They employ a range of teaching strategies and resources. They plan individual lessons that are appropriately structured to support pupils in developing their knowledge, skills, understanding, interest and positive attitudes. When teaching they maintain the pace of the learning, are able to respond flexibly to what is happening in the classroom and have the confidence to adapt their teaching in order to respond to the needs of the learners. They can create an environment in which the learners are usually engaged. They understand how homework or other out of class work can consolidate learners’ progress, and can set and design appropriate tasks. They review and reflect on their own planning and teaching to prepare future planning, teaching and learning activities and resources which build on and sustain progression in pupils’ learning. They work collaboratively with more experienced colleagues, where appropriate to adapt and/or develop the school’s medium term plans, schemes of work, curriculum frameworks, etc</td>

Expectation – for example by the end of the programme a trainee should be able to:

- Plan in detail for all lessons
- Indicate in lesson plans, how time will be used, suitable subject content, appropriate subject specific pedagogy, differentiation for individuals as well as groups of learners
- Integrate assessment into short, medium and long term planning
- Plan sequences of lessons which form a coherent programme and show how evaluation has informed planning
- Plan and mark homework as appropriate
- Demonstrate that their classroom ‘presence’ is emerging/developing/evident
- Be able to follow department plans and contribute to department planning

Examples of Evidence

- Lesson plans
- Annotation of lesson plans
- Resources prepared and used as planned
- Trainee’s evaluation of lessons taught
- Lesson observations from class teacher, mentor, professional tutor, university tutor
- Weekly mentor meeting logs

Teachers' Standards

6. Make accurate and productive use of assessment

- Know and understand how to assess the relevant subject and curriculum areas, including statutory assessment requirements
- Make use of formative and summative assessment to secure pupils' progress
- Use relevant data to monitor progress, set targets and plan subsequent lessons
- Give pupils' regular feedback, both orally and through accurate marking, and encourage pupils to respond to the feedback

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a high level may demonstrate these characteristics:

- They can confidently and accurately assess pupils' attainment against national benchmarks.
- They use a range of assessment strategies very effectively in their day to day practice to monitor progress and to inform future planning.
- They systematically and effectively check learners' understanding throughout lessons, anticipating where intervention may be needed and do so with notable impact on the quality of learning.
- They assess learners' progress regularly and work with them to accurately target further improvement and secure rapid progress.

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a good level may demonstrate these characteristics:

- They are able to assess pupils' attainment accurately against national benchmarks.
- They employ a range of appropriate formative assessment strategies effectively and can adapt their teaching within lessons in light of pupils' responses.
- They maintain accurate records of pupils' progress and use these to set appropriately challenging targets.
- They assess learners' progress regularly and accurately and discuss assessments with them so that learners know how well they have done and what they need to do to improve.

All trainees to be awarded QTS will have demonstrated as a minimum that:

- They have a secure understanding of the statutory assessment requirements for the subject/curriculum in the age phases they are preparing to teach and are able to make broadly accurate assessments against national benchmarks.
- Their planning is characterised by the use of a range of formative and summative assessment strategies, designed to support pupils in making progress.
- They deploy these strategies effectively in lessons, both to evaluate the impact of teaching on the progress of learners and as a basis for modifying their teaching and classroom practice where necessary.
- They understand how school and pupil level summative data is used to set targets for groups and individuals and they use that knowledge to monitor progress in the groups they teach.
- With guidance from experienced teachers, they monitor pupil progress and maintain accurate records setting new targets for individuals and groups.
- They mark pupils' work constructively and provide appropriate feedback to pupils to help them to make progress.

Expectation – for example by the end of the programme a trainee should be able to:

- Acquire knowledge of assessment criteria for all stages and ages taught eg. NC levels
- Apply this knowledge in practice in marking summative assessments
- Routinely demonstrate use of formative assessment (AfL) to assess pupil learning and inform planning and teaching
- Use assessment data to inform planning, teaching and expectations
- Develop pupils' understanding of their assessment targets

Examples of Evidence

- Trainee has knowledge and copies of criteria
- Lesson plans with specific reference to assessment
- Lesson observations by class teacher, mentor, university tutor
- Student teacher's lesson evaluations
- Records of pupil attainment
- Assignments
- Subject specific directed tasks
Teachers' Standards

7. Manage behaviour effectively to ensure good and safe learning environment

- Have clear rules and routines for behaviour in classrooms, and take responsibility for promoting good and courteous behaviour both in classrooms and around the school, in accordance with the school's behaviour policy.
- Have high expectations of behaviour, and establish a framework for discipline with a range of strategies, using praise, sanctions and rewards consistently and fairly.
- Manage classes effectively, using approaches which are appropriate to pupils' needs in order to involve and motivate them.
- Maintain good relationships with pupils, exercise appropriate authority, and act decisively when necessary.

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a high level may demonstrate these characteristics:

- They rapidly adapt to the different circumstances in which they train, working confidently within the frameworks established in different settings and applying rules and routines consistently and fairly.
- They consistently have high expectations and understand a range of strategies that experienced teachers use to promote positive behaviour and apply these very effectively, including use of sanctions and rewards and use of praise, in order to create an environment highly supportive of learning.
- They manage pupil behaviour with ease so that learners display very high levels of engagement, courtesy, collaboration and cooperation.
- They actively seek additional support in addressing the needs of pupils where significantly challenging behaviour is demonstrated.

Trainees demonstrating the standards at a good level may demonstrate these characteristics:

- They work within the school's framework for behaviour and apply rules and routines consistently and fairly.
- They consistently have high expectations and understand a range of strategies that experienced teachers use to promote positive behaviour and apply these effectively, including use of school sanctions and rewards and praise, in order to create an environment supportive of learning.
- They manage behaviour effectively so that learners demonstrate positive attitudes towards the teacher, their learning and each other allowing lessons to flow smoothly so that disruption is unusual.
- They actively seek additional support in addressing the needs of pupils where significantly challenging behaviour is demonstrated.

Examples of Evidence

- Lesson observations by class teacher, mentor, university tutor
- Lesson plans and evaluations
- Conversations with relevant school colleagues
- Mentor log. Work with pastoral staff. Notes from school PS sessions.
- Records of use of school rewards system, sanctions system
- PS directed tasks. Assignment 2. Notes from observation of established teachers

Expectation – for example by the end of the programme a trainee should be able to:

- Be able to keep most classes on task by planning suitably challenging lessons and engaging learners in positive activities and establishing positive relationships with and between individuals.
- Show in lesson plans how behaviour difficulties have been anticipated.
- Challenge inappropriate behaviour which interrupts the learning of others.
- Use a range of strategies including dept/school policies to promote positive behaviour.
- Identify and plan for individual pupils with specific needs. Include health and safety issues.
- Make appropriate use of praise.

All trainees to be awarded QTS will have demonstrated as a minimum that:

- They work within the school's framework for behaviour and can apply rules and routines consistently and fairly.
- They have high expectations and are aware of the range of strategies that experienced teachers use to promote positive behaviour.
- They are able to apply these appropriately, in the context of the school's policy using sanctions and rewards, including praise, in order to create an environment supportive of learning.
- They understand when to seek additional support in addressing the needs of pupils where significantly challenging behaviour is demonstrated.
- They recognize that planning appropriate lessons which challenge learners, teaching using a variety of strategies which address pupils' needs and employing appropriate assessment strategies will all contribute to successful behaviour management.
- They show understanding of how barriers to learning can impact on pupil behaviour and have begun to apply strategies to address these, working alongside experienced teachers and support staff as appropriate.
- They understand that behaviour management is context-dependent and are able to articulate which factors may contribute to more challenging behaviour being exhibited within their classes.
Teachers' Standards

8. Full wider professional responsibilities

- make a positive contribution to the wider life and ethos of the school
- develop effective professional relationships with colleagues, knowing how and when to draw on advice and specialist support
- deploy support staff effectively
- take responsibility for improving teaching through appropriate professional development, responding to advice and feedback from colleagues
- communicate effectively with parents with regard to pupils’ achievements and well-being

PART TWO: Personal and Professional Conduct

A teacher is expected to demonstrate consistently high standards of personal and professional conduct.

The following statements define the behaviour and attitudes which set the required standard for conduct throughout a teacher’s career.

Trainees embarking on a programme of ITE will have demonstrated that they possess the required attitudes and behaviours as an element of the selection process. No matter which route to QTS they undertake all trainees are expected to demonstrate high professional standards from the outset. For that reason the standards in Part two are not graded.

All trainees to be awarded QTS will have demonstrated high standards of professional behavior and that:

Teachers uphold public trust in the profession and maintain high standards of ethics and behaviour, within and outside school, by:

- treating pupils with dignity, building relationships rooted in mutual respect, and at all times observing proper boundaries appropriate to a teacher’s professional position
- having regard to safeguard pupils’ well-being, in accordance with statutory provisions
- showing tolerance of and respect for the rights of others
- not undermining fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs
- ensuring that personal beliefs are not expressed in ways which exploit pupils’ vulnerability or might lead them to break the law

They have a commitment to the teaching profession, and are able to develop appropriate professional relationships with colleagues and pupils.

They have regard to the need to safeguard pupils’ well-being, in accordance with statutory provisions.

They understand that by law that schools are required to teach a broad and balanced curriculum and they are beginning to develop learners’ wider understanding of social and cultural diversity.

Trainees must have proper and professional regard for the ethos, policies and practices of the school in which they teach, and maintain high standards of attendance and punctuality

They are willing to assume an appropriate degree of responsibility for the implementation of workplace policies in the different settings in which they have trained. They adhere to school policies and practices, including those for attendance and punctuality.

Trainees must have an understanding of, and always act within, statutory frameworks which set out their professional duties and responsibilities.

They have a broad understanding of their statutory professional responsibilities, including the requirement to promote equal opportunities and to provide reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities, as provided for in current English legislation. They are aware of the professional duties of teachers as set out in the statutory School Teachers’ Pay and Conditions document.

All trainees at The University of Chichester are expected to demonstrate these criteria throughout their programme. These criteria underpin all standards.
